

New Safe Distancing Protocols

1. All clients will be required to sign a new liability and waiver form upon your first return visit
2. All clients will need to wear a mask upon entering Salt Remedy. Please leave the mask on until you are seated in your comfortable recliner. When the door is closed to begin your session, you may remove it. Please place the mask on your face at the end of your session, before you leave the room.
3. Please sanitize your hands upon entering Salt Remedy, and when using the lockers. We will have sanitizers placed around our facility.
4. Please do not arrive more than 8 minutes before your session.
5. Please do not enter the therapy rooms until you are escorted by a Salt Remedy staff.
6. Please keep your conversations in the waiting area to a minimum after your sessions, as we will need to clean and sterilize the rooms thoroughly in between sessions. This one is so hard for us because we love hearing about your families and your life, but we need to make sure to keep our distance at a safe one, and allow for the next clients to come in.
7. You may now bring your own water bottles into the therapy rooms, provided they have a cap that closes on them.
8. You may bring your own pillows, blankets and reading materials. We will no longer provide these items.
9. You may want to bring your own bandana or handkerchief to your appointments. However, we will continue to provide tissues around Salt Remedy and in the therapy rooms.
10. All clients will be required to have their feet covered in the therapy room, whether you cover your shoes with the booties we provide, or if you choose to bring your own clean socks.
11. All group room therapy sessions will be 40 minutes in length, to give us time to clean and ventilate the room for a full 15 minutes in between each session.
12. Private room sessions will also have a 15-minute waiting period before the next session begins, so that we may clean and ventilate the room for the entire 15 minutes. The exception is for those of you who choose to have a back-to-back session.
13. Electronics are not permitted in the room, as the salt can cause corrosion issues and our screens emit electromagnetic pollution into the air, which may cause a variety of issues. Please respect that that your time in the salt therapy rooms is set up to help you unplug and unwind.
14. Everyone must have an appointment as we are not accepting last minute or walk-in clients.
15. Our group room will be limited to people who are family or know each other and have agreed to book together.
16. Our large group room is limited to 3 people who are not related to each other but know one another and have approved of being in the therapy together.
